

We start this month's Newsletter with the only entry to last year's 'Our Village' competition which was in verse. It comes from Judith Ayris of Liscombe.

May we take this opportunity to remind you that we like to receive items for publication, and in particular welcome short articles of general interest to fill this opening spot in the Newsletter.

'Soulbury Village'

Soulbury village is long and thin,
 With a bend in the middle where the Boot goes in,
 Up at the top the Red Lion growls
 While under the Willows the horses prowl
 The Church on its hill with a tower on top
 Has stood many years and its there to stop
 The Old school has no pupils, though
 Its full of bygones now on show,
 The mounting stone rolls down the hill
 But if you look there it will seem quite still
 Bingo in the Clubroom, houses round the green
 Put them all together makes a pretty scene
 Hollingdon one end and Liscombe the other
 Thats where I live with my parents and brother.

Jubilee Celebrations

At a further meeting of the Jubilee Sub-Committee, various plans were discussed. As one of the fund-raising efforts which will be held over the next few months, it is intended to hold a Sale of Work round about Easter time.

Will anyone who can knit, carve, glue, knock nails into wood or make pictures or pen wipers (hands up those who can remember pen wipers!) - please start now to make articles for the Sale.

Fish and Chip Supper

We are holding a Fish and Chip Supper in the Clubroom on Friday, 18th February at 8.00 p.m. in aid of Jubilee Funds. Tickets - price £1.25 each - will be strictly limited, so do make early application to Mrs. M. Rowe or Mrs. K. Kellner. The menu will also include apple pie and cream, a glass of wine or beer and coffee and tea and will be followed by entertainment.

We are happy to learn that Mr. Hing is now home from hospital and making steady progress.

We extend a very warm welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Morris who moved recently to Andres Close.

Will anyone who has any odd balls, or even short lengths, of knitting or crochet wool which they do not need, let either Mrs. Kellner or Miss Booth have them. Someone in the village has kindly offered to crochet a blanket to be sold for Jubilee Funds.
